

SION WHILEY
'HOPE ENGULFS US'

How can I face today consumed by pure cut fear?
A steady drip to the bottom of my heart
Cos When the 'C word' tore right through me like shrapnel from a bomb
Everything around me slowed down to a silence
But then I see your eyes and I know I'm surrounded

Handed out a sentence when I committed no crime
To punish me and those I love the most Hold me when I fall and I can't be myself no more
Oh there's one word I need you to wrap around me
Hope is the one feeling that engulfs me

I cling to hope every night and hope drenches my lullabies
Her fire burns from my every pore. Please engulf me some more

All I have is hope, Please don't crush my hope

Watching as the party unfolds from the dark side of the room seats all lined up for the lucky ones
But when the music stops and I'm the last one stood up
The truth is I'm really happy for you
And I'd choose myself every time in place of you

You say that I'm brave but I don't have another choice
As I welcome poison in to my open arms
I just fight to hear my baby's grown up voice
And there's one word I need to hear him whisper
Hope is the one feeling that engulfs us

I cling to hope every night and hope drenches my lullabies
She surrounds my very core. Please engulf me some more

All I have is hope, Please don't crush my hope

My heart beats on a green screen we're separated by invisible walls Kick them down, scream my lungs out ripping cold wires from my new born skin

Hope is the one last thing that we've got Hope is where the hearts lays when we fall
Hope will be the last word of this song
Now give me love
Engulfed by hope
